

Medical Missions for Children

Founded over twenty years ago by the very gifted and giving Dr. Usama Hamdan, Medical Missions for Children provides urgently needed surgical attention to infants, toddlers, children, and teens suffering from cleft palate. Now serving in Latin America, Africa, the Ukraine, and India, MMFC's teams of volunteer physicians, surgeons, and nurses, treat hundreds of patients each year. Their work is amazingly restorative, addressing both the physical scars and psychological stigmas of these disturbing deformities. In recent years Coyne Foundation has co-sponsored missions to Ecuador and Mali, and will be supporting the forthcoming work in Ethiopia. Learn more from their web-site at:
